The garrison consists of about 2,500 men, valets by a non commissioned one. The Governor is made acquainted hourly with whatev and in case of any thing happening the whole island would be under arms in 3 or 4 minutes. Such are the precautions by land; those at sea are of a different kind; there are always at least 2 frigates a anchor, while 2 brigs are sailing morning armed boats patrole along the base of the mountains which border the sea and surround upon all sides: at night, that is after 6 o'clock, all boats belonging both to individu An act for the relief of the widow and chil- als and the shipping must have returned, and if a boat makes its appearance it is fired upon An act making additional appropriations for After nine o'clock, no one can move out withpaying the expences of the army and militia out having the password, without fear of being dinand himself cannot, although he refuses to An act for the relief of the widows and or phans of the officers, seamen and marines who signal the moment they are perceived, and a nations has provided it, in order to prevent dollar is given to them who first spies them, the calamities that would otherwise result to An act to repeal so much of any acts now in which may be done nearly six miles at sea. force as authorises a loan of money or an issue Ships cannot bear in close to the island in one ht, especially on a coast so dangerous; and An act making appropriations for the service add to which, that the breakers are so strong that one is sometimes several days without being able to come close in without danger tice or injustice of our cause. You perceive, my dear friend, that escape pears physically impossible; that even if the governor wished to favor it, the admiral must also be in the plot. If even, in spite of all these precautions, the admiral were to allow two or three boats to approach in a favorable night which would be exposed to a very dangerous fire, what would happen then? SIMON BOLIVAR, supreme chief of the republic, and captain general of the armies of Venezuela and New Granada, &c. &c.

VENEZOLIANS! The people, the general, and the armies have called on me, through the me-dium of general Arismendi. Here I am in obedience to your commands. I come at the head of a fourth expedition, with the brave admiral Brion, to serve not to command you. VENEZOMANS! You had conferred on me the upreme power during the two last periods of the republic. You forced me at once to sit on ench, and to fight in the field. Our country of course, has suffered in the administra-tion, and in the war. As conqueror, I never could gather the fruits of our victories to attend to the cares of the government. The distribution of justice, our political affairs, our industry, all were suffering, while I was engaged in the field of battle.

CITIZENS! An imperious necessity commands, without delay, the assemblage of the national congress, to take an account of my conduct, to receive the resignation of the authority I now exercise, and to frame the political constitution, for the regulation of our future government.

VENEZOLIANS! You have been called on by me since the month of May, to form the legis-lative body, without any restrictions, leaving to your discretion the time and place where it You cannot form an idea of this rise: all that you have read or heard of it makes it a paradie when compared with the reality itse.

Thus, then, our government undoubtedly ossesses the right to fit out vessels of war, and to issue letters of marque; and foreign governments, being advised thereof, may admit our vessels into their ports, in like manner as we did during the late war, without infringing the laws of nations, and without violating peace and neutrality. And if the government of Buenos Avres has made itself known to the Ellis Lewis C. Extract of a letter from a respectable officer in the patriot army of Mexico to a gentleman in New-York, dated,

Republic of Mexico, H. Q. Matagorda, Feb. 15, 1817.

My Dear Friend-Although I was born in Holmes Eliza nfortunate Spain, I don't consider myself Hassinger Jon ound to the miseries which my compatriots Hudson Susan uffer under the stupid Ferdinand. I love my Humphreys Fanny country but I deepise its king and its tyranni Hill John al laws. Under these considerations, I have bandoned every thing that I have as a Spaniabandoned every thing that I have as a Spaniard, and I have sworn on the altars of the republic to live free or die. This is the sentiment of every every one who has the honor to be a soldier in this glorious cause.

Gen. Mina is the beloved of the army and of Harris Elijah very inhabitsnt. Our military stores are abundantly provided, and discipline and good order are shown in every part where his comnand reaches. Our corsairs bring to us every day, valuable prizes. We have money e nough; and, we may say, that we are in want of very little. The numerous tribes of In dians come to us with presents of friendship, and they are well disposed to take arms against the common enemy. These poor peo-ple have suffered so much in former times, that they are ready to do any thing against the Spanish government. We know how to take advantage of this good disposition of the aborigines and masters of this soil. We are already in march; our army is increasing daily, and I have every hope that I will soon write you from the capital of Mexico, after having fixed the standard of liberty in every house of that populous and wealthy city.

BENJAMIN S. BULFINCH, FOR PUBLISHING BY SUBCRIPTION, ORIGINAL POEMS,

ON SEVERAL SUBJECTS.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE Author has no design of pecuniary reward in offering his proposals to the public-he thinks not of the meanness that always folhe times not of the meanness that always for-lows duplicity—in a word he withes through the aid of the public, that he may be suppor-ted in this respect. His design is laudable, he intends that a part of the proceeds of the work shall be applied in charry. Citizens of Ten-nessee be not backward on this occasion; still think of those who live in intercesse—think of think of those who live in ignorance-think of the benighted soul of the Hindoo. It is expected that every man who has benevolence in his heart will sub-cribe.

Extract from the Author's Preface. "It is for the patriot, the soldier and the statesman to gather laurels in their different avocations; but it remains only for the pour humble rour to ly down his bays at the feet of a candid public, and await the decision of their just tribunal.
